Issue 2. April 2006

Welcome. We've heard the plea's and made this issue more email friendly. All blue writing is a link to relative web sites or further information. You'll see there are profiles of other organisations, if you would like to be profiled, send us the goods (brochures are good.) Our Web site is changing: we are adding links to subject data (like domestic Violence or family courts) New resources are coming online soon like, "Kids need Dads" bumper stickers, Real Dads tee-shirts. Watch our space. Articles are welcome. We even accept praise and complaints. Got any projects on the go?
